THE FRED SMITH CASE.

Reviewed by the Supreme Court, and Judgment Affirmed.

In the Supreme Court, January 23, the most interesting feature of the day was in the ordering, on motion of United States Attorney Ellinwood, of interest on the judgment of the United States against the bondsmen of Fred Smith, the defaulting receiver of the Tucson land office. The circumstances of Smith's default, back in '89, are familiar to nearly every land owner in the valley. The total amount aggregated about $25,000, nearly all paid in by entrymen in this valley and for which the government, for a time, refused to be responsible. Finally, by special aid of Congress, credit was given each entryman for the amount of his personal receipt from Fred Smith, and patents were issued accordingly.

Fred, who, by the way, is a son of "Extra Billy" Smith, of Virginia, and a brother of the present Chief Justice of New Mexico, departed between two days for South America, where he is yet supposed to be; so his bondsmen became liable.

Somehow, however, United States Attorney Harry Jeffords could prove only $5000 to sue on when he won his case in the United States District Court in Pima county. This amount was adjudged without interest, curiously enough, and, after affirming the decision of the lower court, the Supreme Court awarded interest at 7 per cent from April, 1890, adding a little matter of 42 per cent to the judgment.

There are about twenty bondsmen from whom this is to be collected, a majority of them being resident in Phoenix.—Republican.

Reversed the Court:

Lots of fun at Florence at present, and the little fish are eating the larger ones, as will be seen by the following:

John H. Miller, Court Commissioner of Pinal county, has developed an unusual amount of legal knowledge; in fact, ample to set aside the act of his superior, Judge Rouse. It seems there has been trouble at Florence over the canal under the receivership of T. D. Hammond. Under the leadership of Dan Stevens, seventeen farmers under the waterway took forcible possession of the Florence canal and held it a few days. Application was made to the District Court for a writ of injunction restraining these farmers from controlling the canal, thus remanding it back to the canal company. Now that Judge Rouse is in Phoenix, attending Supreme Court, John H. Miller, Court Commissioner, notified these men he was in a position to help them. They consequently made the move and Miller dissolved the injunction granted by the Judge.

This action is on a parallel with the Yuma Justice of the Peace who arrested the Board of Supervisors for contempt of court because they refused to allow his bill, to which he had certified. A writ of habeas corpus from Phoenix was necessary to release them. Judge Rouse will not do a thing to Miller but let him out of a job.—Phoenix Gazette.

A Robber Captured.

It will be remembered by the readers of the Bulletin that during the fight with the robbers at Morenci, who broke into the store of Becker & McCormick nearly a month ago, and who killed Pablo Salcido, two of them escaped, and, notwithstanding the earnest efforts of the officers in that vicinity, succeeded in getting entirely away.

Sheriff Arthur Wight, since then, has been in constant correspondence with the authorities at El Paso and other border towns, giving the description of the men who made their escape and asking that a lookout be kept for them.

On Tuesday he received a telegram from the sheriff in El Paso and also one from the American consul at Juarez, informing him that one of the men had been captured and was then in the Mexican jail at Juarez.

Sheriff Wight left on Wednesday's train for El Paso, and if he encounters no trouble in getting his man, will have another of the robbing and murdering gang behind prison bars.—Bulletin, January 24.

According to the Phoenix Republican of January 25, it is doubtful if Lopez can be extradited. The Republican says:

"A little international question confronted the Governor yesterday. Sheriff Arthur Wight, the efficient Sheriff of Graham county, telegraphed for extradition papers for one Ramon Lopez, now in Chihuahua. Lopez killed a man in Morenci a couple of months ago, and though no indictment is out against him, there is no doubt of his guilt. Wight telegraphed he would go to El Paso and there await the arrival of the papers.

"Governor Hughes was compelled to refuse to issue the writ. In the first place, owing to the action of the last legislature, there is no appropriation wherefrom the cost of the man's capture might be paid, and, secondly, there never has been known an instance where the Mexican authorities have surrendered a Mexican wanted in the United States for a grave crime. This was demonstrated sufficiently in the case of the wretch who murdered Frank Oury, for the fellow is in Sonora yet and safe, though well known.

"It is a lamentable state of affairs, but that is seemingly one of the disadvantages of living near the border."

Geronimo.

At Geronimo there has been a small army of workmen engaged in building for the past three weeks until now the place is already assuming importance as a business point, though the chances are that the business there will be largely overdone. The Gila Valley, Globe & Northern Railway has erected an immense building which will be occupied by the general offices, depot and also a store, where a full line of freighters' supplies will be kept for sale. The railroad company is now forwarding all the coke from Geronimo to Globe and have put on the road a large number of fine teams and new wagons. Alexander Bros of Thomas, have erected a building and now occupy it with a general store, and it is understood that Dan Ming will also put a general store there soon. John Hoovey and Hal Dorsey have a large building up, which is occupied by their saloon and restaurant. Simpson & Wanslee have a saloon and restaurant in a new building. Charlie Nesbitt, of Thomas, has just completed a new saloon building and moved into it. There are Chinese restaurants galore. Mr. Russell, of Safford has a bakery. Mart more has a blacksmith shop in operation, and George Kilmer is building another, which he will occupy in a few days. Eduardo Soto and Lejo Bedoya have opened a saloon and store. Geronimo is a wide-awake town now, with all the features incident to the West. What its future will be depends on the length of time the terminus of the railroad remains there.—Bulletin.

The Congress Mine.

Among the improvements now under way or contemplated for the near future is an extensive addition to their electric light plant, which will furnish light for the mine and town. The cyanide plant has proven so successful that an addition to it, whereby its capacity will be increased 100 tons daily, will shortly be made. An immense new boiler has already arrived and is being placed in position, which will generate steam to run a new hoist which will be put up to sink 600 feet deeper or to a depth of 2000 feet.

The company employs between 325 and 350 people. The forty stamps of the mill are kept in ceaseless motion day and night, crushing ore, most of the precious metal it contains being saved by means of twenty concentrators, and what escapes them being caught in the cyanide plant, so that but a very small percentage gets away.—Prescott Journal-Miner.

The Democrat in Arizona who is trying to play hot and cold on the silver question, is no more in accord with his party than the bray of an ass is in accord with heavenly music. And the Bulletin liars want to go on record as opposed to sending any man from Arizona to either the Democratic or Republican National conventions who has ever tried to smooth over Arizona's pronounced silver sentiment in an effort to curry favor with Cleveland's administration of the Eastern single gold standard advocates.—Graham County Bulletin.

The Anaconda Company's new electrolytic refinery is expected to be completed for operation next month, thus enabling them to produce as much as 6,000,000 pounds of electrolytic copper per month at their own works. The reserves of ore in sight are estimated to equal three years' production at the rate of 100,000,000 pounds copper per year.—Mining and Scientific Press.

The gold-bearing part of Forty-mile Creek, in Alaska, has been discovered to be entirely in the United States. The dividing line is the 141st meridian, and thus far the longitude of the earth has not been shoved around to suit British interests and pretensions.

Moore Gets the Reward.

After many months of waiting Billy Moore, the Tonto Basin cattleman, will get his reward for the capture of Kid Thompson, the Roscoe train robber.

The case, briefly stated, was: In February, 1894, a Southern Pacific express train was wrecked at Roscoe station, near Los Angeles. The deed was done by unknown persons, for the apprehension of each of whom Wells, Fargo & Co. and the railroad company offered a reward of $1600.

Through the information of an associate, one Etzler, the crime was fastened upon Alva Johnson, a rancher living near Roscoe, and Kid Thompson. The latter fled to Arizona, and after a battle in the rocks in the slopes of Mount Reno that lasted all night, was finally, with a young satellite, captured by Moore and a party of cowboys. The prisoners were taken to Los Angeles, where Thompson was convicted.

Then followed a struggle for the reward money, in which Moore's claim was contested by Lawson's detective agency, which claims to have secured the evidence that led to the capture.

Judge Van Dyke rendered the decision.—Republican.

A poll of the Senate shows forty-eight free coiners and thirty-nine anti-free coiners in that body, with one vacant seat (from Delaware). When the Utah members appear the free silver strength will go up to fifty, for both undoubtedly will be 16 to 1 men. When the Delaware vacancy is filled the sound money side will have forty votes, for the Delaware member, whoever he chances to be, will be against free coinage. This will give a majority of ten to free silver in the Senate on a full vote.

The Safford correspondent of the Graham County Bulletin says: It is reported that the Populist leaders are negotiating with Wiley E. Jones for the purchase of the Guardian, and they held a meeting Tuesday night to consider this business. W. B. Fonda, James Morris, T. T. Hunter and others in this vicinity are as enthusiastic in the Populist cause now as they were in November, 1894, when they cast their ballots for "Bucky" O'Neil.

A correspondent of the Prescott Courier says: The old Vulture is beginning to produce again. The lessees are working twenty men and running fifteen stamps of the mill; are fixing ten more stamps. The mine has produced several millions and was worked thirty years ago. You can't work out an Arizona mine. You may run away from your pay streak or through poor work let them cave in, but work them out, never!

Before the first battle of the civil war was fought Spain recognized the Confederate States as belligerents. This may be kept in mind as an illustration of the fact that Spain is more precipitate in such matters than the United States has ever been.

The House Committee on Public Lands has reported favorably on the bill introduced by Wilson, of Idaho, granting States 25 per cent of all money paid the United States for mineral lands within their respective borders for the support of schools of mines.

Bricklaying has commenced on the new Mormon temple. It is to be a large and handsome structure and its cost will not be less than $10,000. The architecture will be Gothic. It will have a seating capacity of 800 or 1000.—Mess Free Press.

The recuperative power of the American miner is well illustrated in Colorado, says the Mining and Scientific Press. Two years ago the culmination of the silver depression left many of the Colorado miners apparently with occupation gone. They immediately began developing the State's gold resources, with the result that last year's gold output in that state exceeded the value of the silver yield, and it is thought this year's aggregate of gold production in Colorado will exceed $16,000,000. The same thing, applies in Utah. Mercur, in the Camp Floyd district, was one of Utah's great silver camps. With the slump in silver came ephemeral depression, quickly followed by gold discoveries, and today Mercur is such a promising gold producer that a local paper calls it the "Johannesburg of America."

For the Protection of Miners.

Colorado State Commissioner of Mines Lee has prepared a set of rigid rules for the protection of miners against accident and death, which rules will hereafter govern mine operators, and heavy penalties are prescribed for their violation. They revolutionize metalliferous mining in Colorado. In brief, the regulations require that explosives must be stored in magazines prepared for that purpose alone, far enough from the workings to prevent accident in case of explosion. Not more explosives than necessary for one day's operations shall be kept in a mine where work is going on. Under no condition will powder be allowed to be stored underground where men are working. Steam or water baths must be used for thawing powder; no miner may carry powder about his person. All boiler plants must be provided with a hose for emergencies. A uniform code of signals is established, violation of which will entail discharge of employees from service, on penalty to the employer; no man may use the shaft cage or bucket "at his own risk," as heretofore. Daily inspection of machinery and workings in mines where machinery is employed is required. Reports to the mine superintendent are to be made daily. Other important regulations are prescribed. This action on the part of the Commissioner is the result of the terrible loss of life occasioned by the recent mine disasters in that State.—Mining and Scientific Press.

American Capital in Cuba.

It is estimated that there is invested in Cuba, chiefly in the sugar and tobacco industries, American capital to the amount of about $30,000,000. A very large percentage of this has been destroyed by the insurgents. As the case stands now, the American owners have a valid claim against the Spanish Government for the property so destroyed, for the reason that that government is bound to afford protection to their property, and, failing to do so, must pay for it, as they did so reluctantly in the case of Maximilian. When we shall recognize a state of public war in Cuba, for all damage inflicted by the insurgents we must look to them alone. In a clear case of right, where the insurgents are conducting a legitimate warfare, and have all the other requisites to constitute them belligerents, pecuniary considerations ought not to stand in the way of an act of justice. But under existing circumstances, such recognition would imply that the United States would themselves undertake to compensate its citizens for losses incurred through its action. It is well worth considering in deciding as to present action.—Detroit Tribune.

The Herald says, A fellow at Tempe had a tapeworm 150 feet long taken from him. That man must feel sort of lonesome.

Two and one-half cents is the price now offered for alfalfa fed cattle in Salt River valley, and the tendency is still upward.

A good investment—an advertisement in the SILVER BELT.
